

Sandusky City Schools
Academic Booster Club
Presents Author, Illustrator: Sara Holbrook

The Academic Booster Club, in conjunction with Title One is hosting an educational assembly for our students in grades 1-6, featuring poet, Sara Holbrook, on Monday, April 3, and Tuesday, April 4, 2006. As many of you are well aware our organization generally presents the Young Authors Conference every other year. But because we have been offered this collaborative opportunity and financial assistance from Title One dollars, we have decided to provide this wonderful learning experience for the students of the Sandusky City Schools.

This fun filled educational assembly will be held in the Adams Jr. High Auditorium. Sara Holbrook “writes poems for the silly, the wondering, the sometimes hopeless and helpless and misunderstood.” Sara has appeared at over 1000 schools across the United States. In the assembly, Sara will make the poetry come to life for our students by performing a selection of poems and incorporating important tips for improving writing through observation and specific word choice. Historically, performance has been an important part of the study of language, particularly poetry. The writing process is brought full circle as we progress from thought, to writing and finally to the spoken word. The assemblies are entertaining and Sara is accustomed to handling large groups.

She varies her presentations depending on the ages of the students.

At 6:30 the evening of April 4th, 2006 in Adams Jr. High Auditorium the Sandusky Community is invited to participate in Sara Holbrook’s “Family Presentation.” In addition, Sara Holbrook will be available for the sale and signing of her books following the community presentation.

In addition, we would like to reward three students from each building (Grades 1-6) with the opportunity to have lunch with our poet, Sara Holbrook. Information regarding the author luncheon will be sent to each building closer to the event.

If you should have any questions please feel free to contact Faith Denslow at 419-625-8397. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Academic Booster Club
